

Rebecca Penneys Piano Festival

10th Anniversary Season

June 28 - July 18, 2022

University of South Florida

Welcome from the Director

"Penneys' playing is nothing short of amazing."

FANFARE MAGAZINE

It is a great thrill this year to launch the 10th Anniversary Season of the Rebecca Penneys Piano Festival at the University of South Florida! We are delighted to host 23 world-class artist faculty and 39 incredible collegiate pianists at this beautiful campus and all-Steinway facility! To mark our 10th season, we're celebrating both the piano and our planet. Composer Kenneth Frazelle will unveil a new solo piano work, written for RPPF, that celebrates our legacy, enthusiasm, and imagination. In addition, Rebecca Penneys Friends of Piano, Inc. planted 1000 trees in North America to assist the reforestation efforts of One Tree Planted, Inc. and donated $1000 to United National Women's League of America, Inc. in support of humanitarian aid for the people of Ukraine. From modest beginnings, our tuition-free festival has grown into a well-established program that we hope continues to have an impact for generations to come.

At the heart of RPPF, we strive to help each aspiring pianist develop a unique artistic voice and shape a successful future. Every summer we continue to expand the scope and depth of the festival while encouraging participants to personalize their experience according to their individual needs. Our exceptional pianists and stellar multigenerational faculty thrive during these three weeks that feature intense private study, superb daily masterclasses, unparalleled legacy sessions, distinctive special topic classes, and thrilling performances. RPPF Mini - how to take that next career step - is also a vital part of the festival's programming.

Our performances unite inspiring music with enthusiastic audiences of all ages and backgrounds. Faculty share their stories in an intimate setting that blends performance with conversation. Ambassador Concerts present RPPF students in community venues throughout Tampa, Clearwater, and St. Petersburg. Our closing tradition includes two USF concerts: the 2 Piano 8 Hands Extravaganza, a seriously silly event that highlights what pianos and pianists do for fun, and the Student Showcase Concert, a fabulous finale that features each of the 39 RPPF participants.

RPPF is our gift to you. As we stretch beyond the Tampa Bay area to the global music community, I wish to thank USF, the Music Gallery, the RPPF faculty and staff, the RPPF worldwide family of donors and volunteers, and so many others, for making these ten amazing years possible. Your support means the world to us and ensures a bright future ahead, for both piano and planet!

I warmly invite you to join us - live or virtually - in sharing the magic of the legendary classical piano repertoire this summer. Welcome to our 10th Anniversary Season!

With appreciation and great joy,

Rebecca Penneys
Founder & Artistic Director

REBECCA PENNEYS is a recitalist, chamber musician, orchestral soloist, educator, and adjudicator. For over six decades she has been hailed as a pianist of prodigious talent. Rebecca has concertized throughout all the continents north of Antarctica. A Steinway Artist, she is also a popular guest artist, keynote speaker, and celebrated teacher. She represented the United States in United States Information Service State Department Cultural tours over a ten-year period. With over 45 years of experience as a teacher of Dalcroze Eurhythmics and a lifelong performer of chamber music, TERRY BOYARSKY specializes in integrating music and movement into the curriculum. Her unique, multifaceted approach evokes deep listening and playful experimentation. Students work together to understand the components of rhythm and sound, develop attention, improve coordination, and challenge the mind. Her collaborations have spanned the United States, Canada, France, Switzerland, Thailand, and Venezuela. In 1998, Terry earned a M.A. in Ethnomusicology from Kent State University and has been listed in "Who's Who" since 2000. Recent articles include "Dalcroze Eurhythmics and the Quick Reaction Exercises" published in the Orff Echo, and "Encouraging Collaboration" published in the Dalcroze Society of America Connections. Terry frequently presents at national conferences, is a teaching artist with the Kennedy Center's Ohio State-Based Collaboratives, the Ohio Arts Council's Teach Arts Ohio roster, and is an artist for Creative Aging Ohio. She sings with the Cleveland Orchestra Blossom Festival Chorus and Choral Arts Society. Her solo piano program "Classical Expressions of the Folk Tradition" has been received with great acclaim. Terry teaches Vocal Music of Russia and the former USSR at Case Western Reserve University. Since 2007, Terry and Siberian balalaika virtuoso Oleg Kruglyakov have performed throughout North America as Russian Duo. To learn more, visit terryboyarsky.blog

JAMES DOUTHIT (Eastman, DMA Piano Performance and Literature '92) is the Dean of the Mariam Cannon Hayes School of Music at Appalachian State University. His early efforts in the Hayes School of Music have resulted in a significant increase in development focused on student awards and scholarships, an acoustic improvement to Rosen Concert Hall, and increased enrollment. Focused on "transforming a passion for music to a profession for life", Douthit organized a Career Development Boot Camp, a three-day residency with Dr. Angela Myles Beeching, which gave the students, faculty, and staff the opportunity to explore their own career narratives. Douthit holds a Doctor of Musical Arts in Piano Performance from the Eastman School of Music, a Master's Degree in Piano Performance with an emphasis in accompanying and chamber music from Northwestern University and a Bachelor of Music Degree in Piano Performance (summa cum laude) from Mars Hill College in Western North Carolina. He has also studied higher education leadership at the Institute for Educational Management at the Harvard University Graduate School of Education. RAY GOTTLIEB, O.D., Ph.D. practiced behavioral optometry for many years working with patients to improve visual, movement, learning and athletic skills. He has worked with Rebecca Penneys on the piano faculty of the Chautauqua Institution (1992-2012) and at RPPF since 2013, where he applies his stress-point learning approach to teach advanced piano students ways to improve their attention, memory, body coordination, and learning skills. He eliminated his myopia using Bates natural eye improvement practices and prevented the onset of his presbyopia using an approach he invented. His writings include Attention and Memory Training: Stress-Point Learning on the Trampoline and The Fundamentals of Flow in Learning Music (with Rebecca Penneys). Now retired from active optometric practice, Dr. Gottlieb lectures about his optometric training approach to educators, health professionals, and the general public in the U.S. and abroad. He lives in Florida where he researches, writes, swims, invents, and practices eye/brain/body exercises on a sunny Gulf of Mexico beach. Learn more at raygottlieb.com

ARTHUR GREENE was born in New York City and received degrees from Yale, Juilliard, and Stony Brook. He studied with Martin Canin. Greene treasures the inheritance of our rich piano repertoire, which he considers among humanity's greatest achievements, and is grateful for the opportunity to bring it to life and share it with as many people as possible. JEROME LOWENTHAL, born in 1932, continues to fascinate audiences, who find in his playing a youthful intensity and an eloquence born of life-experience. He is a virtuoso of the fingers and the emotions. Mr. Lowenthal studied in his native Philadelphia with Olga Samaroff-Stokowski, in New York with William Kapell and Edward Steuermann, and in Paris with Alfred Cortot, meanwhile traveling annually to Los Angeles for coachings with Artur Schnabel. After winning prizes in three international competitions (Bolzano, Darmstadt, and Brussels), he moved to Jerusalem where, for three years, he played, taught and lectured. Returning to America, he made his debut with the New York Philharmonic playing Bartok's Concerto No. 2 in 1963. Since then, he has performed more-or-less everywhere, from the Aleutians to Zagreb. Conductors with whom he has appeared as soloist include Barenboim, Ozawa, Tilson Thomas, Temirkanov, and Slatkin, as well as such giants of the past as Leonard Bernstein, Eugene Ormandy, Pierre Monteux and Leopold Stokowski. He has played sonatas with Itzhak Perlman and piano duos with Ronit Amir (his late wife), Carmel Lowenthal (his daughter) and Ursula Oppens (his life partner). His recordings have garnered two Grammy nominations and have spanned the whole keyboard repertoire from Sweelinck to Rzewski. Teaching, too, is an important part of Jerome Lowenthal's musical life. For thirty years at The Juilliard School and for fifty-three summers at the Music Academy of the West he has worked with immensely gifted students. He gives classes annually at the Bimfa Festival in Beijing and is a regular participant in the piano festivals of Israel, Italy, France, Germany, Korea, and China, as well as in the U.S. Learn more at juilliard.edu/music/faculty/lowenthal-jerome

At the very forefront of American pianists, critics and audiences have unanimously hailed the distinctive and compelling performances of pianist STEVEN SPOONER. He has been engaged at many of the world's most prestigious venues such as Carnegie Hall, The Great Hall of the Liszt Academy (Budapest), Salle Cortot (Paris), and Shanghai Concert Hall, among many others as soloist with orchestra and recitalist. During past seasons he has reinvented the solo recital by allowing audiences to vote on the spot for one of several programs and like golden-age pianists, his concerts often feature his own compositions and virtuoso transcriptions. Spooner is a prizewinner at all seven international piano competitions he entered, top prizewinner at the Hilton Head International Piano Competition, and First Prize and recipient of the Niekamp Career Grant as most outstanding pianist in French music at the Paris Conservatory. In 2008, he was awarded the Ivory Classics Foundation Prize that enabled him to study Liszt with legendary virtuoso, Earl Wild. He has released over 30 recordings on Naxos, A Life of Music, and other record labels including a monumental project of 16 albums honoring his heroes called Dedications. His latest 10-volume recording project, Aspects of Liszt, will be released in 2022. Spooner is Professor of Piano at the Peabody Institute and has studied at the Tbilisi Conservatory, Moscow Conservatory, and Indiana University. He has served on the faculty of many prestigious summer festivals and is increasingly in demand for his insightful masterclasses at leading conservatories across the globe. He is Artistic Director of the Chicago International Competition and Festival and often serves on juries of international competitions. A dedicated and caring teacher of students from around the world, he has formed winners of multiple prizes at important international competitions. Steven Spooner is a Steinway Artist. She has performed on stages in Shanghai, Nanjing, Beijing, Shenzhen, Zunyi, Amalfi Coast, Palm Desert, Baltimore, and Fort Myers. Ningxin received the 1st Place Piano Concerto Award, 2nd Place Solo Award, and Best Scriabin Performance Award at the 2019 Virginia Waring International Piano Competition. She is the third place winner of the 2020 Online Sviatoslav Richter International Piano Competition and one of the top three finalists of the 2021 Vladimir Krainev Moscow international Piano Competition. Currently she studies with Dr. Steven Spooner at the Peabody Institute of the Johns Hopkins University. In her spare time, Ningxin often volunteers to play at a local hospital in Nanjing for sick people, in pursuit of spreading classical music as a citizen artist.

Alice Zhang, age 19, is entering her sophomore year at the Cleveland Institute of Music, where she studies under Antonio Pompa-Baldi. Born in Cleveland, Ohio and raised in Clarks Summit, Pennsylvania, she began her piano studies at the age of 5. She moved to Suwanee, Georgia, when she was 12, and relocated to the Seattle area in summer of 2021, where she currently resides. In 2021, Alice was awarded the Premier Prix à l'unanimité avec les félicitations du jury in the Cap Ferret Music Open. She also won 2nd prize at the Chopin Avenue International Piano Competition, as well as a special award for her performance of a Chopin Ballade. Her competition accolades also include prizes from the Georgia MTNA Competition, GMTA Competitions, Kennesaw State University (KSU) Young Artists Competition, Dekalb Symphony Concerto Competition, and the Millersville International Piano Competition. She was invited to perform as a soloist with the Schwob Philharmonic, KSU Symphony Orchestra, and Dekalb Symphony Orchestra. She has also performed in masterclasses for Jerome Lowenthal, Nikolai Lugansky, Edward Auer, and Henry Kramer. During the summers, she has attended the Indiana University Piano Academy and the Rebecca Penneys Piano Festival. Aside from piano, Alice's musical background also includes over eight years of violin study. She has been a member of the Atlanta Symphony Youth Orchestra and Emory Youth Symphony Orchestra. In addition, she was part of a string quartet, where she first discovered her love for chamber music.

Jingshi Zhao, was born in 2001 in Foshan, China. She is currently an undergraduate third-year pianist at the Cleveland Institute of Music, studying with Antonio Pompa-Baldi. She started learning piano at the age of three and showed her talent for music at a very young age. Jingshi graduated from The Music School attached to Xinghai Conservatory of Music with high grades in piano performance. She has received awards at numerous competitions, including Second Place in the 2022 Tuesday Musical Association Scholarship Competition; Second Place in the Youth Class of The 20th HongKong-Asia Piano Open Competition; Third Place in The 1st American Classical Pianist International Piano Competition; and Second Place in the Open Class of the Chopin Memorial Prize 2015 HongKong-International Piano Open Competition. This past March, Jingshi successfully completed her Junior Recital in Mixon Hall at the Cleveland Institute of Music. Before the pandemic, she also successfully performed several solo recitals and charity concerts. She has been invited to many music festivals as a performer, such as PianoTexas International Festival and Academy, Todi International Music Masters, and Ameri-China International Winter Piano Festival.

Jiusi (Jameson) Zhang was born in 2002. He began taking piano lessons in Langfang at the age of 4 and studied at the Canada Langfang Secondary School from 2017 to 2020. Currently, he is pursuing a Bachelor's Degree of Music at the Oberlin College & Conservatory of Music with Professor Dang Thai Son. His major prizes include the second prize at the Steinway Youth Piano Competition in China, among others. He has also participated in masterclasses with Ning An, Antonio Pompa-Baldi, Ewa Poblocka, Alexander Schimpf, Matti Raekallio, Edisher Savitski, Fabio Bidini, and Yury Shadrin. Most recently, he was accepted as one of 24 pianists to participate in the PianoTexas International Piano Festival.

Zhuoyue Zhang was born in China in 2002. She began studying piano performance at the age of six. She was admitted to the Music Middle School Affiliated to the Shanghai Conservatory of Music in 2012 and under the direction of Natalia Filippova from 2012 to 2021. In 2021, Zhuoyue was invited to the Eastman School of Music, studying under the guidance of Natalya Antonova. She has received multiple awards and scholarships over the years, including Gold Prize in the Youth Class at the 2020 Macao Piano Competition, First Prize at the International Young Pianists Competition, Third Prize at the Jikun Cai Youth Piano Competition, and Third Prize at the Seventh Shenzhen Piano Open Competition. She won the Third Prize both at RENMIN Scholarship and Shanghai Scholarship in successive years. Zhuoyue has also had the opportunity to study with top pianists and pedagogues from the Boston Conservatory, Royal Danish Academy of Music, and Royal Conservatoire of Scotland.
